

LIMITATION ON THE MOVER'S LIABILITY

The mover is not liable in a claim for loss or damage to articles in the following situations:

1. change in condition or flavor of perishables;
2. loss or damage caused by the shipper, including improper packing;
3. defect or inherent vice of the article, such as susceptibility to atmospheric changes;
4. insects, moths, vermin, ordinary wear and tear, or gradual deterioration;
5. mechanical or electrical derangement of musical instruments, electronic components or appliances, if there is no sign of exterior damage;
6. loss or damage caused as a result of any strike, lockout, labor disturbance, riot, civil commotion, or any act of any person or persons taking part in any such occurrence or disorder;
7. hostile or warlike action in time of peace or war;
8. breakage caused by normal handling of china, glassware, bric-a-brac, or other similar items, unless packed by the mover;
9. liability of mover for loss or damage shall be subject to your compliance with the rules for filing claims.